

SCENARIOS

In a busy Starbucks coffee shop on a hot summers day. Starbucks has announced that the first 50 customers will get free coffee for a year.

At the seaside. Seagulls are hovering overhead and the donkey rides are close to your spot. There's a rumour someone was eaten by a shark here last week.

Trapped in a bank vault, surrounded by piles of money. There is a guard outside the door waiting for help to arrive.

You have been enlisted with the duty of training one of the Queen's corgis. It is prone to biting and defacing the palace furniture. You will be beheaded for treason if you cannot train the corgi in less than an hour.

You recently lost your job and the only work you can get is dressing up as the Easter Bunny for children's parties. You are working at a party for 30 4-year-olds and they are very hard to please.
